College Players to Climax Footlight Festival Program

Climaxing the second annual Footlight Festival activities tonight will be the Santa Ana College players who will present a non-competitive one-act play entitled, "A Phoenix Too Frequent."

Because of the fact that so many of the SAC college players were involved in casting "Green Grow the Lilacs," which was presented last weekend, three alumni of the Don campus will appear in the production.

SAC Drama Chairman Lee Ford will direct players Corlie Fox, Lesly Condon and Harold Alexander. Robert Blaustone will serve as stage manager.

Immediately following SAC's presentation tonight, awards will be presented to the best actor, best actress and best supporting actor from Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips, widow of the longtime SAC drama chairman, whose work in drama helped found the college drama department and the Santa Ana Community Players.

Ford, technical director for the Footlight Festival, will present two other Phillips Awards to the best comedy and best serious play.

L. W. Patterson, president of the Pepsi-Cola Company of Santa

Ana, will present the Patterson Sweepstakes award for the best play direction and presentation.

The program, which began last Wednesday eve, was headed by the Lido Isle Players Club who did their version of "Frankie and Johnnie," the Anaheim Theater Guild with "Sorry Wrong Number" and the Orange County Plaza Starlight Theater group who did an excerpt from "Gas Light."

Other highlights included an excerpt from "Mr. Rogers" by the Newport Harbor Community Players, an excerpt from "Harvey" by the San Clemente Community Theater and "Hello Out There" by the Fullerton Footlighters.

Featured along with the SAC College Players tonight will be the Santa Ana Community Players who will open with "The Valiant."

Livingston Named MVP at Cage Fete

By Jerry Wilcox
El Don Sports Editor

All Eastern Conference guard Don Livingston walked away with the lion's share of the honors at Tuesday night's basketball banquet held in the student union.

Livingston, who paced the Dons to a second place in the Eastern Conference with a 10-4 record, was named the Most Valuable Player and also picked up the award for honorary captain.

Keynote speaker at the banquet was UCLA basketball coach John Wooden, the former three time All American at Purdue who has led the Bruin cagers to six championships in the now defunct Pacific Coast Conference.

Yardley Present

Also on hand to honor this year's basketball team was George Yardley, the former Newport High, Stanford University, and Syracuse National great who is retiring from the pro ranks this year to devote time to his new business in Santa Ana. Forward Jon Brettman, a second team all conference selection, received the Most Inspirational Player trophy from Don Kennedy, vice president of the Orange County Title Co., and center Garnet Linzey was presented the Most Improved Player award by Ken Smith of the Santa Ana Lions Club.

Livingston, who scored 201 points in the 14 EC contests to lead the Dons in that department, was given his two awards by Ted Bennet, vice president of Pepsi Cola, and Bill Wenke, past president of the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Yardley presented the best free throw trophy to Don McConnell, who hit an amazing 88 per cent on conference play and 82 per cent overall.

Letter Winners

Coach Bob Boyd, who sparked the Dons to a 16-13 record after a shaky start in his third year at the SAC helm, handed out letters to sophomores Livingston, Brettman, McConnell, and Don Dannenbring, and to freshmen Linzey, Milt Horton, Lonnie Moore, and Buddy Ross.

Other squad members honored were sophomores Gary Dutro and Phil Livesey, declared ineligible at mid-term, and freshmen, Jan Davis, Ron Leonard, and Ed Moriarity.

Prominent Santa Ana attorney Charles Schlegel, a graduate of SAC in 1946, was master of ceremonies at the affair.

Science Foundation Awards Fellowship

For the second consecutive summer, Arthur Hayes, chemistry instructor at Santa Ana College, has been awarded a six weeks summer fellowship from the National Science Foundation to study radiochemistry at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science.

Hayes will be enrolled from July 11 to August 19 for graduate level lectures and laboratory work five days per week. Only 28 college and high school instructors were chosen from national applications.

Spring Vacation to Bring 'The Best of Everything'

By Carolyn Bridge
El Don Editor

Scholasticitis and mid-term fever will find that long awaited cure today when the last class ends and spring recess begins.

All indications point towards a very easy-going vacation for most of the students on the Santa Ana College campus.

Varied plans consist of daily visits to Balboa, two and three day vacations in Palm Springs, Catalina cruises, and an occasional odd job.

Crowded Beach

If the weatherman continues to endow us with warm weather, most of the Southern California beach towns will be more than crowded. This will not, however, be the lone fault of the weatherman. This year both Orange County schools and Los Angeles County schools will be excused at the same time. In years past, in order to avoid large crowds, Orange County schools have held their vacations the week following Easter.

The week of April 11 will see many exciting events. On the sports scene, the World Champion Los Angeles Dodgers will open the major league season as they host the Chicago Cubs, Tuesday night in the Coliseum.

Phoenix Trip

Our own Don baseball team will journey to Phoenix, Arizona where they will meet Luke Air Force Base and Phoenix in a three game series.

Back on the social front, dancing nightly to the music of Jack Millman and his orchestra will be the highlighted event at the Rendezvous Ballroom in Balboa.

Three Honored At Convention

Honors were bestowed on three members of the Santa Ana College Business Club at the State Convention of the Future Business Leaders of America in Long Beach.

Paul Kennedy, unsuccessful candidate for state president in the conference of high school and college students, was instrumental in forming a separate section for college students and was chosen southern vice-president of the new group.

John Gunn, president of the SAC chapter, won second place in the vocabulary contest and also second place in the Mr. Future Business Executive competition.

Joan Dowling was awarded second place in the Miss Future Business Executive contest.

Mannex was named secretary of the advisor sponsors group.

A special beach party is planned for all the SAC women's clubs on Tuesday of next week.

Sparsely mingled with the pool-side fun, the long days on the Costa Mesa greens, and the box seat tickets for opening night in Dodgerville, will be the brief study sessions and the daily chores of the working students.

Third Resignation Plagues Council

Another Student Council chair was vacated last week when Commissioner of Special Student Activities Jarrell Mauck, resigned to "devote more time to studies."

Mauck's resignation made number three since the beginning of the second semester.

Mauck reported that he waited until this time to resign because all the major jobs had been completed and very little was dependent upon him at this time. He stressed the fact that he wanted to devote more time to his scholastic activities.

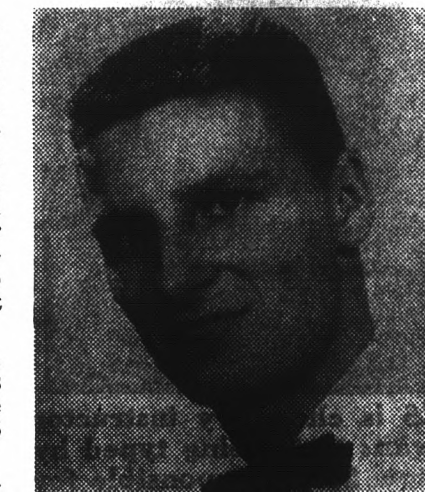

Serving as Commissioner of Special Activities, it was Mauck's responsibility to be co-ordinator of the Eastern Conference Conference which was held on our campus the first part of the second semester. He was in charge of the student council retreat held last month and he handled all other special activities which came before the student council. He also headed the Supreme Court first semester.

During the school year of 58-59, Mauck served as Associated Men's president, and was honored as one of SAC's top ten men. He was also a Bill of Rights award winner.

Plans as to whether a new commissioner should be appointed this late in the year are being considered at present by Associated Student's president Bill Mott and Vice President Joan Tammarro.

There will be no major jobs to be handled by the commissioner for the remainder of the year but Mott feels that the council position should be filled.

SAC Choir to Sing At LA Philharmonic Folk Dance Festival

Santa Ana College's 60-voice choir will provide music for the 13th annual International Folk Dance Festival of Los Angeles tomorrow, April 9.

The festival will feature the bizarre Inca rituals of Bolivia, Siam's exquisite court dances, medieval flag twirling feats of the Swiss cantons, the fiery flamenco of gypsy Spain and primeval Maori dances of New Zealand.

There will be 40 traditional dances from five continents on the Philharmonic Auditorium stage, starting at 8:30 p.m. Dedicated to international good will through the language of folk dance and song, the colorful event is being produced by Irwin Parnes, under the sponsorship of the International Cultural Exchange Foundation.

Instructor James Vail will direct the SAC choir.

Tickets are available at the Philharmonic box office or any Mutual agency.

With One Aim

"With one aim — to serve student and college." Upon every masthead of the Santa Ana College El Don appears this motto. Likewise it appears in the minds of every service club member on the Don campus.

One of the prime examples of this campus service is viewed in the new modern bulletin board in front of the Student Union additions.

During the first semester Circle K installed directional signs on campus. At present the Circle K and the Don Lions are working on plans to construct a brick gateway and walk at the corner of 17th Street and Bristol Ave. with the words "Santa Ana College" in large ornamental letters.

Such activities sponsored by the service clubs mean only a small amount of work for each individual, but so much pleasure and benefit for an entire student body.

Other service club activities include the jeweled crown which is worn by all of SAC's queens on their big night, donated by Las Gitanas.

The Bill of Rights replicas were donated by the Vets Club. In addition to this they donated the concrete benches located at various points on campus.

At present Las Meninas and Circle K are working on a new victory flag to replace the one that was misplaced the first part of this year.

It is obvious that SAC's service clubs are here to serve.

But let it not stop here. There are always additions and improvements to be made.

Let this motto be placed upon everyone's mind.

"With one aim — to serve the student and college."

WHERE THERE'S SMOKE . . .

NEAR DISASTER CAUSED BY EXCITED OPERATOR

By Barbara Berman

A little town in California was awakened by screaming sirens heading in the direction of three emergency fires.

But one fire was to burn in the absence of a fire truck.

An excited long distance telephone operator, now working at Santa Ana College as faculty secretary, sent one fire truck to the wrong town-ship.

"I imagine this could well be described as my most frustrating moment," related Mrs. Lou Morton, presently SAC secretary to 59 bosses.

Mrs. Morton had hopes of becoming a doctor, but marriage quickly dissolved her plans and she found herself living in Hawaii on the Marine Corps base.

"Hawaii is a beautiful place where I enjoyed relaxing in the island sun. Of course, the food was tempting and I'll never forget the tarriaki steaks which were served with a thick sauce," Mrs. Morton reminisced.

Mrs. Morton began her present job of faculty secretary in 1958 after a SAC night school instructor prompted her to apply for the position. She is responsible for typing and mimeographing all faculty tests, managing all clerical work for the staff, and taking care of the stockroom.

"Satisfying 59 different bosses is quite a task, but I don't mind it. I wish I had a photogenic memory so I could learn different subjects while typing the tests," Mrs. Morton said.

Three children at home don't like "mama" working. They would prefer her being with them during the days.

The Morton household boasts daughter Sandy, age 4, and sons Don, 11, and Jerry 8.

Husband Don plans to retire from the Marine Corps in five years and "then we can travel anywhere in the world with transportation free," beamed Mrs. Morton.

In the meantime, the Morton clan settle for camping trips in California mountains or a yearly trip to Las Vegas.

JUST ONE OF 59 BOSSES is chemistry instructor Arthur Hayes, who patiently awaits tests being typed by faculty secretary, Mrs. Lou Morton. She is responsible for typing, mimeographing, and packaging all exams plus replenishing stock supplies. (Photo by Hushman)

Returning to College Opens New World

By Barbara Derdzinska

Typical of the many women on the Santa Ana College campus who are married and are now coming back to school is Patricia Sayre.

"I'm more aware of things going on around me. Current events on the radio and in the newspapers have more meaning. A whole new world has opened up for me since I came back to school," says Pat.

Pat originally came from South Lyon, Michigan.

"My husband Greig and I decided we would build our own home even though we knew nothing about it."

The Sayres started off by building a basement 76 feet long and 26 feet wide out of cement blocks. They put in windows and a sub-floor. They lived in this houseless basement for three years.

Florida Bound

"After our first son was born we went on a vacation to Florida. We liked it so much that we didn't want to go back to our 'monster.'" (The house, not Greig Jr.)

So the Sayres finished the house, sold it and bought a trailer.

"We wanted to travel around the country and see what the rest of the United States looked like before we settled down again," explained Pat.

Build Ideas

When the Sayres reached California and Santa Ana they decided that here they would build their next house.

"Right away we found a wonderful 1/2 acre lot out in Tustin. Besides, who wouldn't fall in love with this wonderful California weather," smiled Pat.

This time, it didn't take the Sayres so long to build a house.

"In about a year we had the house finished and furnished and were starting on the yard. My husband is trying to make a farm out of our 1/2 acre. We have 55 fruit trees of many different kinds and grow a lot of vegetables. We also have two hives of bees and our two boys raise rabbits," Pat continued.

Do-It-Yourself

Mr. Sayre, after having had experience building the house in Michigan, put in the plumbing, wiring, cabinets, and masonry in the current house.

Pat explained how she happened to come back to school.

"After we had our house built I had no goal. I had taught Sunday school for six years but I never thought of going into teaching until a friend told me about the Santa Ana schools."

Enjoys Plays

"My husband and I have never enjoyed plays and basketball games as much as we have now that I am here at SAC," stated Pat.

In addition to carrying 13 units, Pat manages her household and takes care of her husband and two sons. Last semester she made the dean's list with a grade point average of 3.27.

The Sayre's two sons, aged 11 and 9, participate in Little League activities. Greig Jr. belongs to a stamp club.

Pat will have to delay finishing her education for a while because the stork will be visiting the Sayre household sometime in October.

But she'll be back!

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT when it comes to schoolwork as well as housework, according to SAC adult student, Mrs. Pat Sayre. Both require time and accuracy, put Mrs. Sayre finds them rewarding. (Hushman Photo)

Convention Delegates Find Answer For Combining Work, Recreation

Convention time is work time. And so when you're on a three day convention how do you find time for recreation? According to delegates that have just returned from the California Junior College Student Government Assn. convention in Coronado, the only answer is to burn the candle short on both ends.

Santa Ana College's delegation of A. S. President Bill Mott, Anna Lou Brewer, Linda Bright, Don Andersen, and Larry Wentzel are prime examples. Drearly-eyed and dead to the world it didn't take a high I. Q. on Monday to see who had been gone for the weekend.

Although lots was accomplished in workshop sessions, including one proposal by Andersen, the convention was highlighted with outstanding recreational opportunities. It's rumored that Mott was handed a real thumping on the tennis courts.

Other recreational facilities included swimming, tennis courts, golf, cards, and stairway climbing.

SAC Girls Fete Junior Tammaro

"This will be the first baby Santa Ana College has ever had!"

With these words, an excited mother-to-be, Mrs. Joan Tammaro, acknowledged over 50 girls who presented her with a shower in the Student Union March 30.

"I'm so glad I was able to remain in school," Joan continued, "so each could have a place in my baby's life."

The baby shower was pre-arranged by Della Kahn and Ar-dith Munro.

Campus Clubs

ALPHA RHO TAU

Members of the Art Club along with the art structure class visited both the Long Beach Art Gallery and Long Beach State March 18.

Plans are now in the making for a visit to Orange City Park where club members will sketch park scenery. Also members will view Fidelity's program on Art at a color T.V. studio in the near future.

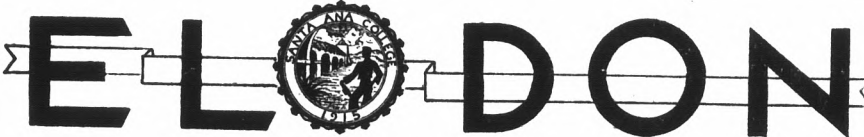

Joe Archuleta was elected secretary - treasurer to replace Linda Bright.

LAS GITANAS

The world known Hall of Crucifixion displayed in Glendale, California's Forest Lawn cemetery will be viewed by members Sunday, April 10.

Also to be observed will be the Last Supper stained glass window, Mystery of Life rotunda, and Freedom Hall.

On Saturday, April 30, members have planned to visit the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles to see the Georgian State Ballet Company composed of famous Russian artists.

Woman of Year Finalists Named

Eleven Santa Ana College sophomore women have been named as finalists in the Woman of the Year program.

Ann Lou Brewer, Linda Bright, Donna Bush, Beth Harrison, Della Kahn, and Kathy Kennedy are among those named.

Others in the top 11 are Ardith Munro, Sharron Quinn, Nancy Stebbins, Joan Tammaro, and Judy Warnke.

The top 11 were chosen by a group composed of the AWS cabinets of both semesters, both semester's presidents of the women's service clubs, and the club's advisers.

The Woman of the Year will be chosen from the 11 finalists by all 54 women who were nominated for recognition.

The Woman of the Year program will be held Wednesday, April 27 in Phillips Hall. All 54 women will be honored with the top 11, including the Woman of the Year, whose name will be announced during the program, receiving special recognition.

Following the presentation of the women a dance will be held on stage and refreshments will be served in the Green Room.

Parents and interested friends will attend the event.

SAC Women's Clubs To Hold Beach Party

Members of Santa Ana College's three women's service clubs, Las Gitanas, Las Hidalgas, and Las Meninas, will participate in a joint beach party to be held Tuesday, April 12 during Easter vacation.

Each club will contribute something toward the party, making it pot luck. About 75 girls will participate in the festivities.

Organizing the beach party are Donna Bush, president of Las Hidalgas; Nancy Stebbins, president of Las Meninas; and Jeanne Lentz, president of Las Gitanas.

Classes to Recess For Spring Vacation

Santa Ana College will recess for spring vacation next week with no classes being held April 11-15.

Both Los Angeles and Orange County schools have scheduled vacations for that period. In the past vacations for the two counties have been staggered.

Classes will resume Monday, April 18.

Instructor Speaks To Valley Writers

"Opportunities in Journalism" was the subject of a talk given by SAC Journalism Chairman Carl Venstrom this week to the journalism class of Valley Senior High School.

Venstrom discussed the education necessary for work in the field of journalism and the opportunities presently opened to trained people.

This is Valley High's first year of journalism, and the group plan to attend SAC's Annual Journalism Day on April 21 when more than 300 high school students from throughout the county will be present on the campus.

Contests, Dance Among Day of the Don Activities

Games, races, a buffet dinner, and a dance will highlight the activities of Day of the Don, Friday, April 29, announced Cliff Hutter, chairman of the Day of the Don committee.

Announcement of the winner of the Beaver (beard growing) contest and the crowning of the Don and Dona will also highlight the day's events.

Student Delegates To Represent States At Conventions

Two Santa Ana College delegations will partake in mock political conventions in Los Angeles April 22 and 23.

Political Science instructors David Hartman and Ernest Crain will head delegations to the Republican and Democratic Party conventions respectively.

The Republicans will hold their meeting at Occidental College on April 22 with Hartman's delegation of 17 representing the State of Minnesota.

Los Angeles Valley College will host the Democratic meeting on April 23 with Crain's delegation of 21 representing Virginia.

The one-day sessions will be run in close accord with the National Conventions slated for July in Los Angeles and Chicago.

Don and Dona candidates are being sponsored by campus clubs. Women's clubs are sponsoring men and vice versa. Coed clubs may sponsor either.

Games will begin at 2 p.m. with a student-faculty baseball game sponsored by the AMS. Circle K will sponsor a greased pig contest, however, the pig will not be given away.

A bicycle race sponsored by the Don Lions will follow. The AWS will sponsor a tug of war between the sophomore and freshman girls.

Swimming coach Myrel Moore and sophomore class president Don Andersen will be in charge of a swimming contest in the Don pool, which will close the afternoon's events.

After a two hour break, which will enable the participants to go home and change from play clothes to sports clothes, a buffet dinner will be served from 6:30 to 8:00 in the patio and snack bar. It will be a spaghetti dinner at a very nominal price.

Sonja Smith, Nancy Leffler, and Anna Lou Brewer are in charge of the dinner.

A dance, featuring recorded music, will follow the dinner. The dance will last until 12:00.

Las Meninas is decorating for the dinner and dance.

Day of the Don committee members are faculty members William Corser, Thomas Trawick, Courtland Holdgrafer, and Peter Raven. Student members, in addition to chairman Hutter, are Alan Leonard, Nancy Leffler, and Don Bissonnette.

Council Comments

By Barbara Derdzinska

Tuesday's student council meeting was unusually short with no long winded discussions as is the usual pattern.

Fifty-eight tickets for the Eastern Conference Dance were sold. This means that Santa Ana College must make up the balance for the other eight tickets that were to have been sold since SAC's quota was 66 tickets, reported treasurer Alan Leonard.

Assemblies and Rallies Commissioner Larry Keith reported that the music department would present an Easter assembly on Thursday.

Kathy Kennedy reported that the publicity for the Footlight Festival and Easter assembly had been put up.

Larry Wentzel, chairman of the constitutional changes committee announced that another open meeting of his committee would be held April 7 at 7:00 p.m. in Seminar 11.

Doug Dyer, representing the Associated Men Students in the absence of president Don Bissonnette, reported that plans are being made for the Man of the Year program, May 27.

Cliff Hutter moved that flowers and a card be sent to Bissonnette, who is recuperating from an operation. The motion was carried.

Joan Tammaro moved that the Chess Club be accepted as a recognized club on the SAC campus. The club was accepted.

As the last piece of business Andy Kormos read a letter from college nurse Marie Pound regarding the turnout for the bloodmobile.

Rothrock to Resign From Baseball Post

By Jerry Wilcox
(El Don Sports Editor)

CITRUS — Cliff Rothrock has announced his resignation as head coach of the Santa Ana College baseball team, it was learned exclusively by El Don today.

Rothrock made his announcement to the team just prior to the opening game in the Citrus Baseball Tournament.

Dons Split Two In JC Tourney; Go Again Today

It was a long drought, but it finally ended.

Santa Ana College baseballers, who hadn't been able to buy a hit in six straight Eastern Conference tilts, banged out 23 safeties in two games yesterday to gain the semifinals of the consolation bracket in the 17th Annual Citrus Baseball Tournament.

The Dons dropped their opener to top seeded College of Sequoias, 11-7, yesterday morning in a slugfest, but bounced back behind the heavy hitting of third baseman Bernie Young and the steady pitching of right-hander Dick Kreager to whip Chaffey, 9-3, in the afternoon.

Today SAC will meet the winner of this morning's consolation game between Riverside and host Citrus.

Of the seven EC teams entered in the tourney, only league leading Orange Coast survived the first round. The Pirates topped Pierce, 5-2.

Young, who broke out of his slump in thundering style, bashed a triple and single in five trips in the first game for four RBI's, and slammed out four for four in the night-cap including a homer and three singles.

Kreager improved his overall win-loss record to 5-1 by spacing nine Chaffey hits, striking out ten and walking two. The former Anaheim hurler had only two day's rest after he beat the Long Beach State JV's Tuesday, 2-1.

Should the Dons get by either Riverside or Citrus today, they will play in the consolation finals Saturday at 11:00 in Wrigley Field.

The locals will leave Santa Ana Monday on their annual barnstorming tour through Arizona. They will face Yuma on Tuesday, travel Wednesday, play Phoenix on Thursday, Luke Air Force Base on Friday, and return to Phoenix Saturday. They will arrive home Sunday afternoon.

Righthander Don Crabtree worked the first game for the Dons yesterday and led 7-4 until Sequoias jumped onto him and reliever Jerry Thompson for seven runs in the eighth inning.

The Dons committed five errors in the first fray, but only one in the second.

The Tewell boys also paced the SAC hitting attack. Terry, had two safeties in each game while brother Brian contributed a triple and single in four trips in the Chaffey tilt with four RBI's.

Second sacker Gary Sawyer also banged out two hits in the second

SAC, Chaffey Split Volleyball Match

SAC's WAA volleyball teams split with Chaffey recently as the B team came back to win two out of three after the A squad had lost to the Panthers, 12-6, and 10-8.

Down one game after a 15-13 defeat, the Dons rallied for 15-8 and 11-7 victories to gain a split for the day.

In other WAA action, Judy Dombrowski and Diana Hertz turned back El Camino opponents in straight sets, 6-0, 6-1, in their tennis match while Karen Bessey and Zoe Ann Pickell were losing in the singles.

He said that he will finish out the season including the Easter Week trip through Arizona.

Asked about his future plans, "The Rock," as he was known by his players, said he has "other irons in the fire."

The Dons are currently tied for last place in the Eastern Conference while their overall season record of seven wins against nine setbacks. Their 4-2 pre-conference mark is one of the best in the school's baseball history.

Last year, Rothrock's first at SAC, the Dons finished with a record of four wins against 19 losses and one tie.

According to Rothrock this year's "poor showing of the Dons had nothing to do with the decision" to resign.

Rothrock is also a member of the counseling staff at SAC and teaches orientation. He was an assistant football coach in 1958-59.

An Economics major at North Dakota State, Rothrock taught at Concordia College in Morehead, Minn. from 1948 to 1954, then moved to the North Dakota staff before coming to Orange County two years ago to coach at Western High School in Anaheim.

Included in Rothrock's rebuilding program at SAC was his innovation of the Don Baseball Clinic. Over the two-year span the clinic was attended by nearly 1,000 Orange County youth.

Among instructors were such outstanding "names" in baseball as Al Campanis of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Don Lindeberg of the Chicago White Sox, Bobby Adams of the Chicago Cubs and Rod Dedeaux of the University of Southern California.

Rothrock, who succeeded Stan Hayden at SAC two years ago as head Don baseball coach, also initiated the annual barnstorming tour in Arizona over the spring vacation.

The Dons scored four times in the fifth inning to put the game on ice. Consecutive singles by George Moore, Young and Sawyer produced one, and Brian Tewell's ensuing triple chased across two more. Tewell raced home on Harry Fulsom's squeeze bunt.

Golf Team Bags Ninth Straight

With nine straight Eastern Conference golf wins behind them, Don linksmen now get a break from conference play until April 18 when they meet Citrus at Los Serranos County Club near Azusa.

The Dons are the only undefeated team in the conference and are now heavy favorites to cop the loop crown and make a strong bid to bring the State Championship to Santa Ana when the State is played at Mesa Verde Country Club in Costa Mesa on May 16.

Latest victims of the Don steam roller were highly rated Mt. San Antonio and Riverside. The Dons topped Mt. SAC 23-7 and Riverside 30-0.

Santa Ana Hosts EC Merman Today

SANTA ANA, April 8 — Eastern Conference schools plunge headlong into the second day's action of the 14th Annual EC Swim Meet here today with Fullerton and Orange Coast favored to battle it out for the conference crown.

The meet got under way yesterday with the diving preliminaries, the 200 yd. Individual Medley and the 1500 meter freestyle. Today's action begins at 2:30.

Cast in the role of spoilers in their first season of competitive swimming, the host Santa Ana Dons will enter eight events.

Coach Myrel Moore, who has secured the services of members of Sammy Lee, Sea Horse, and Blue Buoy Swim Schools to assist him in the running of the meet, has nominated Allen MacAulley and John Stanford to go in the 100 and the 50 yd. freestyles.

Other Don participants include Arnie Douglas in the 100 yd. butterfly, Art Evans in the diving, Tom Dadson in the individual backstroke, and Stanford, Douglas, MacAulley, and Larry Gibney in the 400 yd. freestyle relay. Gibney competed yesterday in the 1500 meters, and Ned Bankston swam in the individual medley.

Eight events are on today's card with the remaining to be held tomorrow morning starting at 10:00.

Admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 for children.

Rogers Returns To Bolster Don Upset Chances

Don hopes of upsetting perennial Eastern Conference track champion Mt. San Antonio College in today's dual meet at Santa Ana received a shot in the arm early this week with the announcement that sprinter-broad jumper Steve Rogers has regained his eligibility and will be able to compete.

Rogers, who missed last week's encounter with Citrus and Riverside, will be counted upon heavily by coach John Ward in the 100, 220, and broad jump. He was a triple winner in these events in the Fullerton, Orange Coast meet.

Dethrone Mt. SAC

The result of today's clash should give EC track fans a good indication of whether or not the Don thinclads can dethrone Mt. SAC from its usual perch at the top of pack when the conference teams meet in early May.

A number of personal duels should highlight today's fray: — Larry Stuart of Santa Ana, who holds the JC record in the javelin will get top competition from the Mounties' Vince English in his pet event;

— Bob Miltz, who edged Fullerton's Leroy Neal in a 4:21.1 mile last week, should battle the Dons' Dale Story in the distances;

— Hurdlers Willie Carroll of SAC and Chuck Eagale of the Mounties will match strides in the 220 lows; — And Rogers and Bryant Gill are on a par in the broad jump.

Strong in Weights

Again the Dons are favored to pick up a large chunk of their points in the weight events. Doug Stoner, whose 165 ft. 2 in. heave is tops in Southern California for a JC athlete, will be favored to capture the discus. He, along with Big Ben Bryant, will also be a threat in the shot put. Stuart should nab the javelin while Dave Ascher gives the Dons depth in both the shot and discus.

SAC distance men who should be in the money besides Story are Max Cheney, Larry Spaulding, and Bill Hudson.

Both squads tuned up for today's crucial with wins over EC foes in triangular meets last week.
